WEATHER PROBABILITIES .- War Depart ment Office of the Chief Signal Officer, Washington, D. C., August 3, 1876-10:30 a. m.-In the Middle States rising followed by falling barometer, easterly to southerly winds, stationary or slowly rising temperature, partly cloudy weather, and along the coast rain areas.

('HURCH TROUBLES. - Several months since the congregation of Bou'ah Baptist Church, (colored), on south Washington street, gave notice to their pastor, Rev. Clement Robinson, that they were unable to pay him a salary and would have to dispense with his services. The pastor, however, claimed that there was a bal ance of $1 200 due him, and declined to give up the charge until that amount was paid. He resides in Washington, and continues to come down occasionally and officiate in the church, in which course he is sustained by a small minority in the congregation. Edward Carter, one of the minority, had charge of the record book of the congregation, and refused to deliver it up to the majority, and consequently there has been much bad feeling between the two parties. Last evening there was a meeting of the congregation, and while Carter was coming out one of the female members, named Elizabeth Billard, tried to snatch the coveted book out of his hand, whereupon Carter struck at her, and was attacked in return by her husband, and a general scrimmage ensued. In the midst of the melee one of the majority party got po session of the book, and now holds it. Threats of arrest and law suits were freely made, but it is understood that cooler counsels prevailed, and that the whole matter will be referred to three arbitrators for settlement.

ARREST OF A COUNCILMAN. - A difficulty occurred on south Washington s'eet, to-day, between Councilman Seales, colored, of the Fourth Ward, and Supt. of Police Brow-It seems, from the statement of the former that he expostulated with the Superintendent for having pavers, who are paid two dollars and a half a day, engaged in digging, while laborers could be employed for that purpose, at one dollar per day. Some words then passed between them, ending in Brown calling on officer Bartlett and having Seales arrested and conveyed to the station house. Mayor Johnson examined the case and released Seales at once, on the ground that while he should not interfere with the Superintendent of Police in the discharge of his duty, still, as a member of the City Council, he had a right to suggest any thing to 'he officer, for the benefit of the Corthe city officers, having been terminated by the adoption of the compromise resolution, last night, the officers were receiving their warrants and money for the month of July to-day. The relief afforded by the action of Council is very acceptable to the officers, many of whom really needed the money.

THE CANAL BREAK -A letter dated on Monday last containing more definite information as to the break in the canal near Hancock, was received here this morning. The break is at Heizer's farm, on the Fourteen mile level, and is in the berm back. The letter says that material for the repairs is abundant, at the point named, and that the repairs can be com pleted in four days.

ACCIDENT.-Mr. Wm. Woodfield, who lives on St. Asaph street, left his little child sitting in a covered wagon, at his door, for a moment, yesterday, when the horse making a sudden start, the child was pitched out of the back of the wagon, and quite severely bruised and cut on the head. The committee in charge of the Relief Hook and Ladder Company's excursion have invited the matron and orphans at the Female Orphan Asylum to accompany them on Wednesday next to Marshall Hall.

Mr. Vansant, the express messenger who was so badly bruised in the collision on Monday was removed to his home in Baltimore to-day. He is rapidly recovering from his injuries, although still very sore. The Superintendent of Police has cut a ditch across Washington street at the intersection with Franklin street, by which the water is urned down the latter street to the tan yard drain, instead of flooding the path leading to the Catholic cemetery, as it formerly did. Mr. Harrison Emerson, an aged and well-known resident of West End, is lying quite sick at his residence there from the effects of a blow with a stone, received in a quarrel with a | the action of the committee, so far as Caldwell neighbor some days since on acc unt of the alleged trespass of some geese. From Washington.

SENATE. WASHINGTON, Aug. 3, 1876 .- The Senate was occupied for a short time with routine business, and then took up the River and Harbor Appropriation bill.

The following appropriations have been stricken out of the bill: For improvement of Ocerquan creek, $2.400; Aquia creek, $3,000; Nomini creek, $1,000; Accotink creek, $4,000. The bill was discussed by Messrs. Edmunds, Anthony, Allison and others.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. In the House of Representatives Mr. Hurd, of Ohio, from the Committee on the Judiciary, made a unanimous report concerning the noto rious Caldwell Blaine dispatch, justifying the action of Mr. Knott in withholding the dispatch, which is not considered evidence, and exonerating Mr. K. from any unworthy motive

Mr. Knott addressed the House in relation to the subject, in which he administered a very sev-re castigation upon the "late" Mr. Blaine. intimating that his long continued "brain fag" was rather an old soldier's dodge to postpone the punishment in waiting. He alluded to the theatrical exhibitious upon the floor of the House by Mr. Blaine, and said that getting evidence out of some of Mr. Blaine's friends was only equaled to "getting a possum out of a twisted gum." He gave a history of the bends and a summary of the evidence, with was concerned, and the means taken to get Caldwell's testim my, he having had to choose the alternative of leaving for foreign climes or taking up his abode in some Massachusetts penitentiary. Mr. K. then gave the particulers of the dispatch, which, when he first reorived it, had a fishy odor about it, and after hearing the testimony of the witness about the manner in which Blaine had contemplated suicide, he then thought that Blaine could be guilty of fixing up the dispatch-and subse quent events tully bore out his suspicions-for the evidence disclosed the fact that the dispatch was made up in Philadelphia, sent to Caldwell across the ocean, and by him as once sent back to the Judiciary Committee-all in the opinion of the specker, with the knowledge if not at the direction of Blaine. The speech was clear and convincing, and most damaging to Mr. Blaine.

Mr. Knott was replied to by Mr. Fry of Me., who complained of Mr. K's course in reviewing the testimony and drawing the conclusions that he had done, and vociferated Mr. Blaine's incoceser. He regretted that he had signed the report expuerating Mr. Knott.

Mr. Knott said that the speaker had his permission to withdraw his came.

Mr. Fry said he would do so with pleasure, and then went on to give his reas ans for signing the report and exculpating Mr. K., for whom 92 King street, at present occup ed by Lucas he had entertained such exalted opinions but whose speech to-day had upset all his previouideas of Mr. K.'s goodness of heart.

A cologny occurred between Gen. Hunton and Mr. Fry, in which the General exhibited his u-ual coolness and fairness, and though Mr. Fry tried to play the bully, he was compelled to "e me down" and sing lowly.

Mr. Hale next took the floor and attempted a vindication of Mr. Blaine.

Mr. McCrary, Radical, followed, who did not think Mr. Kerr's vindication was as complete as that of Mr. B aine! Mr. Hear, Radical, would not have assented to the report if he had first heard Mr. Knott's Mr. Lawrence, Radical, who had also assented to the report, would, in consequence of Mr. Knott's speech, withdraw his assent.

Mr. Hurd, Democrat, regretted the discussion that required that the Radical members should withdraw their assent to the report.

Mr. Knott closed the discussion in a most sareastic rejoinder, in which he handled his assailants without gloves, and declared that he had not one word of his original speech to alter, and that the Caldwell dispatch originated with James G. Blaine, in his opinion.

The report was recommitted by a decided

The conference committee upon the Diplomatic bill being ugable to agree a new committee had to be appointed. The House resolved to adjourn on Monday next, but the Senate will not concur.

LONDON, August 3 .- The statement tele craphed to the Gaulois that the Z ibeks had killed all the people in the streets of Smyrna is an absurd exaggeration. A letter to the Times signed by autobabitant of Smyroa says: "3,000 volunteers arrived on the 15th of July from the interior and embarked for the scene of the Turkish war. They were permitted to parade through the Frank quarter en route to the barracks. They plundered some shops and injured about a dezen persons, two of them seriously.
